

Child safety with Earthwatch

Our commitment

At Earthwatch, we believe that children and young people are vital to achieving our mission to empower people to save the natural world.

We are committed to ensuring the safety, wellbeing and empowerment of all children and young people at all times.

Our approach

As a Child Safe Organisation, we ensure that we adhere to the National Principles for Child Safe Organisations. This includes:

- Providing a welcoming, inclusive and safe environment for all children and young people.
- Promoting and ensuring the cultural safety of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children.
- Championing diversity.
- Listening and responding to the views, needs and concerns of children and their families.
- Ensuring that all staff are appropriately trained in assessing and mitigating risks to child safety.
- Working with Children Checks for all staff working with children and young people.

Want to know more?

To learn more about the policies and procedures behind our commitment to child safety and wellbeing, visit our website here.

If you have any concerns about the safety or wellbeing of a child or young person, contact a trusted member of Earthwatch staff immediately.